

Dear Gnostic Fellows please let me share this short reflection on Cultivating the Solar or Christic Nature

Cultivating the Solar nature in our lunar environment is for sure the greatest endeavour and most meaningful thing we can do with life.

It is the Rose that grows in the difficult earth.

The free will that has been given to all essences in a human body uses the lunar nature to create a distorted nature, a psychological abyss or defect or short the Ego. Always entangling itself more and more in its own developed infra nature.

By doing so losing more and more contact to not just the natural reality of life but the very meaning and reason for life itself.

For that reason all Divine messangers or profets and teachers have sacrificed and suffered to give us the knowledge and ability back of our most intrinsic nature. The creation of a solar nature with our free awareness, will and life force and so change or develop into a Human Being.

This Knowing and ability is Gnosis and its teaching of the tree factors. It needs to reach the Essence and activate the Will.

Solar nature is to see the unity and origin of life with greater and greater expansion within the reflection of the lunar prism or nature. To unifyngly comprehend its diversity and multidimensional reality. Enabling the harmony of life in its relative and dualistic appearances in matter, time and space that are the properties of the Mind as VM Samael explains.

Once we have received this knowledge the most disadvantaging thing is ignore it in daily life.

The reason behind not activating this treasure is because we do not see ourself as the Essence of life but to lose oneself in identifications with all the little temporary aspects of its manifestation.

VM Samael explains that because we identify ourselves with the facets of lunar lives reflection we became unconscious to the solar reality to the Being and its consciousness.

Feeding on this lunar life we became more and more hungry and never fulfilled. Leading to the exploitation and exhaustion of lives potentials in us.

By relating ourself profoundly with the knowledge of Gnosis and remembering ourselves as The Essence of the Being we can stop the identification with lunar life and activate consciousness of the Beings solar reality. Than we can recognise, understand and undo the creation of our own false inner nature and uncondition ourselves from lunar nature and its controls within the mechanical reflections of life.

As more we relate and trust to the teachings and the Being as more faith we develop that gives more and more strength to the Essence to relate to itself in a solar way seeing itself as a conscious Being in an natural thinking and feeling way other than in hypnotic mechanical patterns in the mind.

This enables us to become more and more capable to bring orientation and values to our life that are uncontrollable from the lunar and egotistical nature.

We develop a solar nature in us that slowly assimilates the reality of the Being through the human experience in an free and uncorrupted way.

The essence becomes liberated from the tension and struggle caused by lunar nature's diversity and multifaceted or relative dualistic appearances in the mind.

The result is psychological comprehension of oneself, and as stated, that give the Essence an awareness of the mystery of life and death encompassing an orbit outside time and space.

Only by relating to our real inner Being can psychological knowledge be used in an edifying and dignifying way to empower the Essence.

This relating proves most difficult as long as we are not identifying and relating ourselves to the Being and the teachings of Gnosis in the natural way.

As we have the tendency to become free by developing dependencies to outside factors even in regards to Gnosis. We stand in our own way with blocking expectations and conceptualisations.

To not identify with our ego's perception and desire gives the ability to relate naturally and realistically to life. It is best possible in the absence of any distorted outer or inner impressions or memories.

To have decrement instead of identification the cultivation of silence and mental calmness is most essential.

The use of willpower and prioritisation makes it possible to have the possibility extracted from life what is needed and to establish an order that allows for that.

Practically implementing this and with perseverance though many failures and sincere patience the solar nature unfolds in an natural, unspectacular but extraordinary transformative way.

Ending with the words of our beloved Teacher VM Samael Aun Weor

The time has come in which we must throw ourselves into the fray with these teachings. The time has come in which we must concern ourselves with profoundly, terribly, deeply knowing ourselves...
